

Company Secretarial

Count ensures that the compliance requirements of the Companies Act and a company's own Articles of Association are met, both in terms of the filing of statutory forms and the correct drafting of documents to record the actions of directors and shareholders. There are a number of company secretarial tasks which can cause a trap. Delegating complex work to an expert team lets clients concentrate on their core business, secure in the knowledge that they are compliant. Depending on client needs, COUNT can take care of the whole job or just the more complex procedures.
